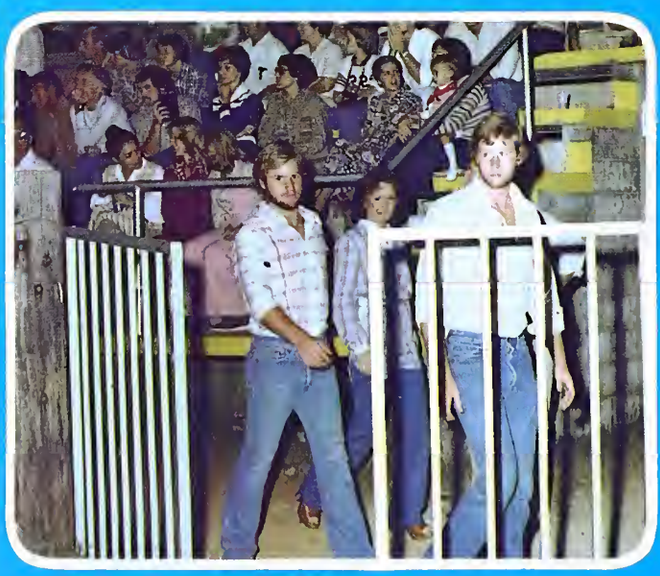
NEW COLORS ADD SPIRIT TO IJC . . .



PAUL

1979 is the first year that IJC has the official colors of red, white, and blue — the first year that there is no confusion over what our school colors are.

We can cheer for the big blue now. Perhaps with the selection of new colors a new spirit has been born. IJC students are loyal to each other and to the school. New colors? New spirit? New meaning? Who knows?

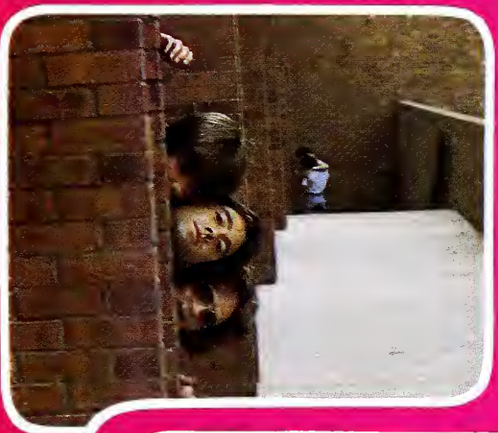
RED . . .

the excitement of fall semester starting . . . seeing familiar faces and old friends . . . moving into the dorm . . . the spirit at pep rallies and ballgames . . . all of these contribute to the excitement and enthusiasm we have for IJC.



Yet there are those who will think of that shade of the college's color scheme in a softer, quieter vein. Their memories will look back on the reds of the trees beyond the football field — the ones that run the edge of the ridge that guards the campus to the north — the ones whose leaves blow away in November only to bud again with spring.

WHITE . . .

the anxiety that goes along with being in a new place totally different from high school . . . the purity of young love . . . the brilliant, burning spot of fire nailed above the band's practice field . . . the specks of light in a December night as we pack and ready for Christmas vacation and the end of exams . . . the first flakes of snow falling on the IJC campus.

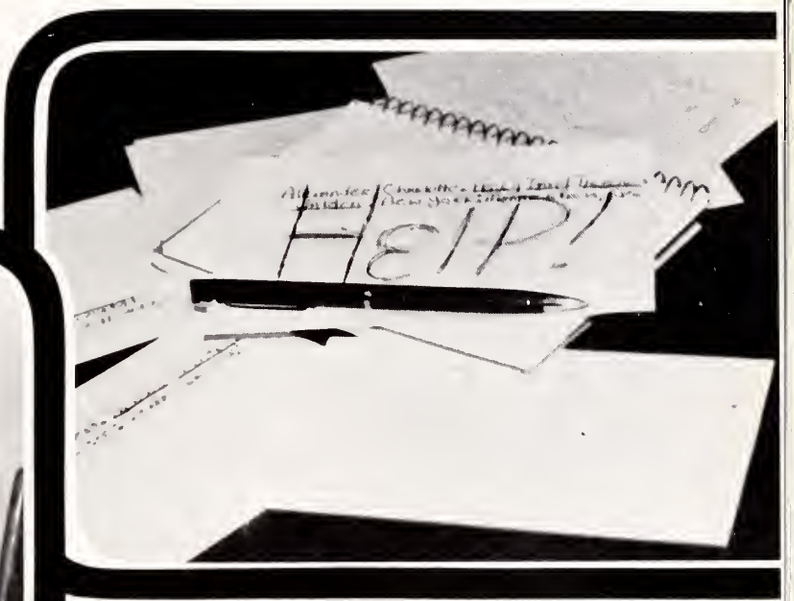
the tint in a co-ed's eyes . . . the color of the uniform of the day — blue jeans — or the feeling one gets while watching the November rain from a dorm window . . . the hassle of registration . . . the thought that to be in college you have to go to classes . . . true color blue . . . it's all the same, yet it casts different memories on each student like the lengthening of shadows on a late afternoon.



HELP!

Chieftain

The CHIEFTAIN, the student newspaper, is published twice each month during the regular school year. Staff members not only write and edit the copy, make the photographs and do the artwork but they also do all of the typesetting and paste-up. The paste-up and some of the type-setting is done on the Tupelo Campus of IJC on the Monday night before the paper is distributed on Thursday. Staff members often have to work twelve or more hours on just the paste-up of each issue and are often in the Print Shop until 1 a.m. putting the final touches on the paper.

In order to learn new techniques about the production of the CHIEFTAIN, staff members attend two conferences each year that are held by the Mississippi Junior College Press Association. In addition, the CHIEFTAIN co-sponsors the annual IJC Newspaper Conference for IJC and high school students. Workshops are conducted by area journalists.

Mirror

Producing a pictorial history of IJC requires that the MIRROR staff members not only work during school hours but often at night and on Saturdays. The dreaded deadlines always come just before special days such as Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas holidays and Valentine's Day, which means staff members are sometimes required to give up some of their celebrations time to see that the yearbook pages are completed as scheduled.

Working on the MIRROR is not all work, however, staff members enjoy a Publications Banquet, an out-of-town yearbook workshop, and a staff party or two. In addition, this year's co-editors and adviser were treated to an all-expense-paid trip to Dallas, Texas to learn the latest information on yearbook production. Taylor Publishing Co., which paid for the trip, also sponsored a summer workshop at Ole Miss that the co-editors attended.

IJC President Dr. W. O. Benjamin

The IJC Board of Trustees and President not only recognize the importance of reviewing the institution's past, but they consider a vital part of their work to be the evaluation of information that will aid them in preparing for the future.

A long-range construction plan has been devised which outlines the location of future renovation and construction.

In addition, officials have been studying the latest data on projected enrollments so they will know how many students to prepare for in the future. Officials are also keeping in close contact with community experts in industry, the professions and business in order to provide their students with proper training for these fields.

By keeping as informed and up-to-date as possible, Itawamba Junior College can thus fully serve the needs of the people in the five-county area.

The thirtieth anniversary of Itawamba Junior Collge has provided a time for students, alumni, and personnel to review the institution's past and take a glimpse into its future.

Alumni, particularly, have gotten out old yearbooks and memorabilia and have reflected on the times when they were students at IJC. Evelyn Young, one of the junior college's first freshmen and one of the first dormitory students, remembers: "It was really different from anything I had ever experienced. It was just us 10 girls in an old high school dormitory. We really had a blast."

Virginia Anthony Jackson said IJC's first students were excited about their new college life. "It was a new experience for all of us. If it hadn't been for IJC, many of us wouldn't have been able to go to college."

IJC is far different in appearance from the days that classes met in buildings owned by the Itawamba Agricultural High School. But IJC is still providing quality instruction for its students.

Now, however, the institution has two campuses, one in Fulton and one in Tupelo, which not only provide academic programs of study but also vocational and technical instruction.

This fall, full-time student enrollment at IJC is 1,421 with 1,005 on the Fulton Campus and 416 on the Tupelo Campus. When all part-time students are added, total enrollment increases to 3, 346. The number of instructors, which now total 150, has also increased. Of these 123 are full-time.

Also increasing is the number of instructional programs and courses available to students. Besides academic, vocational and technical courses, IJC offers about 30 Continuing Education Courses. Some of these are Bluegrass Guitar, Homecrafts Ceramics, Interior Decorating, Bass Fishing, Income Tax, and Jogging for Adults.

The appearance of Itawamba Junior College has changed considerably over the past two or three years and the institution is almost unrecognizable from the way it looked a decade ago when it was valued at 3,132,000. Today IJC has set aside that much money for construction which is either underway or has been let in bids.

Now under construction are a technical education building on the Fulton Campus and a multi-purpose vocational building on the Tupelo Campus. Bids have been taken on a recreational area that will include tennis courts, a lighted open field, and a comfort station.

This fall a new Fine Arts Complex, which consists of three wings for music, theatre, speech and the visual arts, was opened for use on the Fulton Campus. Last spring two new dormitories were completed.

At present the total value of completed buildings and the equipment in these buildings is estimated at $17,334,200. When the technical and vocational buildings and the recreation area are completed and equipped, the institution's buildings and equipment will be valued at about $20,757,400.

Indians Outscore Opponents, but Only Break Even

Football is a game of inches. It is a game in which chance, accident, or coincidence can send a team spiraling to a championship or falling to the dismal depths of defeat. Perhaps this can best be illustrated by looking at IJC's last two football teams. Last year the IJC team compiled a 6-4 record which included the Mississippi Junior College Football Championship, despite being outscored in total points by their opposition. This year's team wound up with a break even 5-5 mark, yet they outscored their opponents. The inches seemed to be stacked up against IJC this year.

GULF COAST DOWNS IJC

It was no way to start a season. IJC visited Gulf Coast and left with a 19-7 loss. Holt scored the only TD for the Indians late in the third period. Hill added the point after. So much for an undefeated season.

DELTA DUMPS INDIANS

IJC's home debut was spoiled by the Delta Junior College Trojans who beat the Indians 21 to 7. The loss was to be our biggest margin of defeat. Holt again scored the only IJC touchdown and Hill added the point after. Oh well, nobody loses three in a row!

EAST CENTRAL EDGES IJC

We lost three in a row. The third loss came at the hands of East Central by a 21-29 margin. It was nip and tug all the way. Unfortunately, they out-nipped us. Clay socred first for IJC on a 9-yard fumble recovery and return. Hill added the extra point. The next IJC score came on a halfback pass from Straughter to Trimble. The point after was missed. Dixon made the final touchdown on a 1-yard run. Hill kicked the extra point. Back to the old drawing board.

IJC GETS FIRST WIN

Four weeks into the season IJC started a precedent by downing East Mississippi 27-26. IJC's second-half surge was good enough to overcome a 20-7 half time deficit. The winning score came with seconds to go when Mears blocked a punt in the end zone. Cayson fell on it for the TD, and Holt ran for a two-point conversion. This could be the start of something big!

PEARL RIVER VICTORIOUS

Pearl River visited the IJC campus and took a 12-2 victory over the win-starved Indians. All IJC got out of the affair was a first period safety and a bunch of rain-soaked uniforms. Next week is Homecoming. Somebody wake up the offense!

INDIANS WIN HOMECOMING

Somebody woke up the Indian offense for IJC's Homecoming. They also woke up sophomore Bobby Straughter, too, who ran for 178 yards and two touchdowns. Hill kicked two extra points and a 25-yard field goal. The Indian defense proved to be very stingy. Final socre: IJC, 17 — Holmes Junior College, 0.

NORTHEAST TIGERS TOOTHLESS

IJC traveled to Booneville and blasted a bunch of Northeast Tigers toothless by a score of 26-0. Hill started things for IJC with a 33-yard field goal. Dixon pashed to Trimble for the first TD. Hill kicked the extra point. Westbrook romped for a 25-yard TD, followed by a Dixon-to-Westbrook touchdown pass, and another field goal by Hill, this time from 27 yards out.

IJC COMES UP SHORT

It was a typical case of cowboys and Indians as Northwest raided the IJC reservation and came out with a hard-fought score fo 28-26. The Indian defense yielded its first points in three games as the Rangers raced out to a 28-9 half time lead. For the Indians it was Hill starting the scoring with a 32-yard field goal, followed by a 1-yard TD plunge by Straughter, a Dixon-to-Westbrook TD pass, a two-point conversion, and a one-yard run by Dixon with 41 seconds remaining.

ITAWAMBA TRAMPLES COAHOMA

IJC demolished the Coahoma Tigers in a game which resembled Custer's Last Stand. The Indians left no survivors in the 38-6 rout. The half-time score was IJC 7, Coahoma, 6. Hill gave the Indians a 4-point lead on his 35-yard field goal early in the third period. Buddy Collins fell on a fumble in the Coahoma end zone for a TD shortly afterwards, followed by a 10-yard interception and return by Tony Mears, a 35-yard interception and return by Walter Zinn, and a 1-yard touchdown plunge by Bobby Straughter.

FINAL GAME SUCCESSFUL

IJC ended their season on a positive note as the Indians pounded Copiah-Lincoln Junior College by a score of 39-23. The game might have been much closer, however, had it not been for some fourth quarter heroics by sophomore Tom Alef. Alef intercepted two Co-Lin aerials, and returned them for touchdowns of 65 and 88 yards, respectively. Add to that 2 TD's by Bobby Straughter, one on a fumble recovery and the other on a pass from QB Chris Holt, a 13-yard TD pass from Holt to Nathan White, and a 23-yard field goal by Mickey Hill and it spells out IJC's fifth victory against as many defeats and the end of another football season.

Tennis Team Second in State

Despite the fact that the 1978 tennis team didn't have campus facilities on which to practice or play home games, the team came in second at the state tournament in Meridian. In addition Jeff Chambliss and David Alexander were state champions in number two doubles.

The team practiced and played home games on the tennis courts at Tombigbee State Park in Tupelo. Teams in the future will be able to play on six new tennis courts in a $483,200 recreational facility which has been let for bid.

Baseball: A Season of Frustration

The season's baseball awards went to Glenn Logan, Most Valuable Player, and Chris Holt, Most Improved Player.

Pitching was the weakest point for the Indians, whose tally for the 1978 season was three wins and fifteen losses. According to Coach Curtis Monroe, the team's other problems included the late arrival of some players and a ball team consisting mostly of freshmen.

The 1978 Track Team finished in the top three in each of the seven meets they attended. They brought home one first place award, four second place awards, and two third place awards.

In addition, three team members won state awards: Jeff Tally, Pole Vault; Kent Davis, High Hurdles; and David Jones, Low Hurdles.

Kent Davis alwo took North Division High and Low Hurdles awards and team awards for High Point Scorer, Most Valuable Player, and Team Captain.

Tally was selected North Division winner in Pole Vaulting while Fred Porter was selected North Division winner in the 100-Yard Dash and also the team's Most Improved Member.

ACTIVITIES

"The IJC All-American Band"

"Under the direction of Mr. Bryan Herring and Mr. Wade Irvin and under the field direction of Ronnie Watterson, the Itawamba Junior College All American Band" — that became a familiar line to the 100 or so band members at IJC. To most of them it brought a sense of pride in the progress that the band program has made in the past few years, and a sense of duty to perform to the best of their ability.

The IJC band is not only a well recognized part of IJC student life, but is also recognized by musicians throughout North Mississippi.

Also boosting the members' spirit was the arrival of brand new uniforms in the school's colors — red, white, and blue.

This year the group was selected to be the guest band at the 8th Annual Mississippi Invitational Marching Band Festival and also to perform as the north-half representative in the All Star Classic football game. Fall semester activities also included half-time shows at football games and appearances in several Christmas parades. In the spring the band gave a symphonic concert and hosted the Northeast Mississippi Band Clinic for high school students.

IJC Goes for Double Jazz

Two jazz bands are better than one. That's what the Music Department decided this year when an increase in the number of music majors and an increase in student interest was identified. Both jazz bands are under the direction of Mr. Wade Irvin. They perform throughout the year in a number of concerts featuring popular selections.

JAZZ BAND A includes: (top picture, 1st row, l. to r.) Kenneth Gardner, Don Easter, Danny Mitchell, Rick Hawkins, Jay Stanley, Nancy Hallman, Nancy Tutor, Chuck Adams, (back row) Jeff Sewell, Barry Bobo, Pat Dougherty, Steve Irby, Charlie Watkins, Trent Holt, Gail Harris, Jeff Murphy, Keith Young, and Kenny Simmons. Prominent People Visit Campus

Several prominent people in the state and nation visited IJC as guests, speakers, or entertainers. Some of them were:

Gov. Cliff Finch (top left) who discussed political matters with students;

Are journalists, (top right) who conducted the Second Annual Newspaper Conference co-sponsored by the Chieftain Staff and the Journalism Department;

Thad Cochran, who campaigned at IJC prior to being elected a U.S. senator from Mississippi.

Activities Relieve Student Doldrums

To start the school year off right, IJC held a Welcome-Back-To-School Dance. Other highlights of the year were Jersey Day during Homecoming Spirit Week, a Halloween Monster Mash, an outside bar-b-que, a fashion show entitled "Fall Reflections" that was presented by the Fashion Merchandising students and a Newspaper Conference for Junior College and High School students that was co-sponsored by the Journalism Department and Chieftain staff.

Artists Present "I Remember Mama"

The IJC Theatrical artists presented a two-act play entitled "I Remember Mama" on November 16 and 18. The play, the first to be presented in the new Fine Arts Theatre, had approximately 30 student participants. These students, most of whom appeared on stage, collected and set up props, assisted Miss Joyce Nicholson in directing, produced the sound effects, set up the lighting and, of course, acted.

"I Remember Mama" was adapted by John Van Druten from Kathryn Forbes' book Mama's Bank Account. The play portrays the joys and problems of a Norwegian family in America.

The cast included: Bridget Walton, the main character and narrator who portrayed Katrin; Teresa Alewine, Mama; James Johnson, Papa; Angie Kelly, Mike Williams, Jane Austin, all children; Ronnie Watterson, the family's border; Sonya Hollingsworth, Jennifer Wilson, Shelia Littlejohn, all troublesome aunts; Ronnie Sullivan, a frightening uncle. Other cast members were Betsy Hammock, Tim Smith, Gregg Sappington, Mike Bramlett, Trish Coker, Kathy Rye, Nancy Hallman, Debbie Myers, Randy McCain, and Chuck Kidd.

The stage crew included: James Atkins, Set Design; Tony Pettigrew, Cliff Nichols, Ronnie Sullivan, Jim Huffman, Steve Head, John Emerson, Larry Morgan, all Set Crew; Steve Head, Sound Effects; Jennifer Wilson, Make-up; Bridget Walton, Costumes; Gary Pate, Technical Director; Jim Huffman, Scott Gregory, both Light Crew; Pattie Bennett, Publicity; Jennifer Wilson, Bridget Walton, both Program Design; Valerie Sisco, and Cindy Inman, both Ushers.

Choir Displays Talent

Some 35 students were enrolled this fall in the Army Reserve Officer Training Program at IJC. Uniforms were not issued and students were not required to get a hair-cut. ROTC activities under the direction of new instructor, Capt. Gary Parvin, included a helicopter excursion, field trips to army bases, and pre-game shows by the Color Guard during football games.

Cadet Pat Dougherty became the first student to be presented a three-year scholarship by the Army ROTC. He also received certificates of appreciation from the Daughters of the American Revolution and the American Legion.

Hair-cuts No Longer Required for ROTC Cadets

Thirtieth Anniv Homecoming Ex

Thirtieth anniversaries only come once — that's why IJC's 1978 Homecoming on October 7 was even more special than usual. Not only were students and alumni observing the annual tradition of Homecoming but they were also observing IJC'S thirtieth anniversary.

Elaborate displays consisting of mannequins in costumes standing beside signs made of chicken wire and crepe paper in the school's new colors proclaimed the anniversary as did a special edition of the DAILY JOURNAL, which included articles about the institution, its past, and its plans for the future.

ersary Makes tra Special

Spirit Week, which gave students a chance to dress in outlandish clothes, ushered in Homecoming. Other activities included a pep rally, tours of two new dormitories and the Fine Arts Complex, performances by the Choir, Band and Kaleidoscope prior to or during the game against the Holmes Bulldogs, an afternoon bar-b-que, and a dance featuring Montaque.

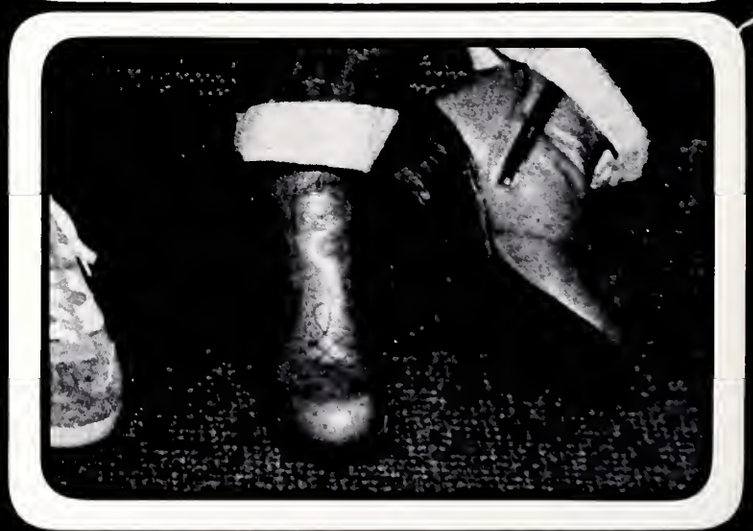
IJC

Everyone rooted for IJC this year, and the lines of the cheer that may sound strange to some overprotective parents only expressed to the world what we felt. IJC meant everything to us. Why such dedication? New colors — 30th anniversary — disco dances — fashion shows — all were a big part in creating the fine spirit that prevailed. Students, friends, and faculty, who showed loyalty and enthusiasm, were always striving to make the institution just a little bit better.

"Academic classwork" is not all there is to an education. Learning and experience go a long way into making up a life. IJC is made of people that believe "One gets out of life what one puts into it." A lot was put into this year . . .

PRACTICE — team sports and intramurals — practice that made winners — and that taught us how to lose with dignity — marching our feet off and blowing our guts out — knowing that's what it takes to be the best.

FASHION — teaching us to take pride in the way we look — whether in jeans and jerseys or dresses and boots.



STUDY — for classwork — for learning — reaching our goals for a higher academic standard.

PRICE — in what we do and say — how we live — in our school — and ourselves.

FUN — dances — movies — whopping it up — relief from classes — having fun with each other.

COMMUNICATION — really respecting the other person — knowing he has something valuable to give.

And we got a lot out of it, too. We developed ourselves in every area — we grew — changed and became just a little more ready to "Seize the day!" and to face the world on our own. IJC brought us all closer to our goals for our educations and careers — for our lives. For some IJC brought lifetime mates — for others, a step closer to becoming an adult — working and giving to our society in one way or another. Because of all this, most of us will proudly say we were a part of 79. IJC helped make us better persons, and will be a part of us — just as we are a part of it.
